

A photograph of a modern wooden desk with a laptop and a green chair. The desk is made of light-colored wood with a visible grain. A dark laptop is open on the desk. To the left of the laptop is a circular black object, possibly a mouse or a cable management device. The desk has thin, dark green legs. In the foreground, a green fabric chair with a textured surface and a matching green metal base is partially visible. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.
